

PROBABLE COAL STRIKE ENGAGES U. S. OFFICIALS

Harding Meets With His Cabinet for First Time In Weeks.
Issues Discussed
Hughes Brings Up Matter of Upkeep of U. S. Troops On Rhine.

Washington, March 21.—President Harding met with his cabinet today for the first time in several weeks.

An imposing array of business, both foreign and domestic, has accumulated in the interim and nearly every member of the president's official family went to the meeting today with one or more problems to be considered.

Chief among the matters of domestic policy is the coal strike. Secretary of Labor Davis has prepared a complete report for the cabinet on the impending coal crisis, reporting the failure of the administration to bring about a joint conference between operators and miners under the terms of the 1922 contract. What now will be done is a question of cabinet decision. Unless there is a decided change of front on the part of the operators in the next ten days a nation-wide strike will be more effective one week from Saturday.

Secretaries Weeks and Denby both took to the cabinet meeting complete reports on their conflicts with congress over the drastic slashing of the army and navy which congress seems bent upon.

Despite repeated warnings from both Weeks and Denby, backed up by General officers of the army and navy, congressional economists are stubbornly going ahead with plans this week to cut the army down to 115,000 men and the navy to 65,000 or less. Denby and Weeks will appeal to the White House for the exercise of full executive power to curb congressional action if not in the house then in the senate.

The controversy with the allied powers over the payment of the American bill of $241,000,000 for the upkeep of the American troops on the Rhine formed the major part of Secretary Hughes' contribution to the cabinet budget.

The prompt order of withdrawal of the troops in the face of the allies disposition to delay settlement, is expected to have a salutary effect abroad. For one thing, a cabinet officer said today it would serve notice on the European government that this government does not intend to "haggle" with them over the matter.

This fact will be further impressed upon them shortly in the identical notes which Secretary Hughes is preparing to send them. The attitude of the state department is that it would be "unbecoming" of the United States to be drawn into a "petty controversy over a matter in which American rights are so clearly established."

Indianapolis, March 21.—An official strike call in the anthracite and bituminous fields was mailed from union headquarters today.

New York, March 21.—A supreme and final effort to avert a strike in the anthracite coal fields is under way today. A meeting of operators and miners was called for 2 o'clock at the Union League Club and it was generally understood that a strike would be called throughout the hard coal fields if the negotiations failed.

It was understood that President Lewis was prepared to issue a statement at 4 o'clock this afternoon calling out all the hard coal miners in the 4,000 local districts throughout the country.

Those attending the meeting this afternoon will include:

For the miners: President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America; Thomas Kennedy, P. J. Golden and W. J. Brennan, members of the sub committee.

For the operators: S. D. Warriner, W. J. Richards and W. L. Connell.

This meeting was understood to be the last resort to attempt to avoid a general walkout on April 1, when the present wage scale expires.

WANT HUGHES TO ANSWER SECRET TREATY CHARGES

MAY RECOMMIT PACIFIC TREATY TO COMMITTEE

Lay Plans to Compel Secretary Hughes to Appear In Person.

SEEK PUBLICITY

Borah to Challenge Demand By Cravath of Secret Understanding.

Washington, March 21.—Secretary of State Hughes branded today as "absolutely false" the charge made in the senate that the United States and Great Britain entered into a secret understanding aimed at Japan during the Washington conference.

In a letter he addressed to Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, Hughes declared that "we have no secret understandings or agreements with Great Britain in relation to the four power treaty or any other matter."

The Hughes' letter which Lodge read in to the record as soon as the senate reconvened, was the result of a statement attributed by Senator Borah of Idaho, to Paul D. Cravath, prominent New York lawyer and one of counsel for J. P. Morgan and company, that the United States and Great Britain had made a secret pact in order to keep a whip hand over Japan with an Anglo-American fleet in the Pacific and the far east.

Lodge also read a long telegram from Cravath in which the New Yorker declared that the charge was "unfounded" and that he had been misquoted by the Idaho senator.

Senator Borah was quick to challenge the denials of both Hughes and Cravath.

The Idaho senator read copious excerpts from a printed pamphlet intended for private circulation which he explained bore the title "Proceedings of the council on foreign relations—comments upon the conference limitation of armaments and far eastern questions."

Washington, March 21.—A move to recommit the four-power Pacific treaty to the senate foreign relations committee was planned today by its Democratic opponents for the purpose of compelling the appearance of Secretary Hughes, Elihu Root, Paul D. Cravath, the New York lawyer, and others who have figured in charges of secret negotiations involving the pact, before the committee.

The move was expected to come in the form of a motion by Senator Shields, Democrat, of Tennessee, a member of the committee, who declared that he would insist upon all the circumstances surrounding the making of the treaty being "fully aired" by the testimony of those he held personally responsible for it.

Senator Shields pointed out that in response to a demand voiced by the Republican majority led by Senator Dodge of Massachusetts, former secretary of state Lansing and others prominently identified with the making of the Versailles treaty had appeared before the committee during the league of nations fight and that former President Wilson had received the entire committee at the White House in order to allow himself to be questioned regarding what had transpired at the Versailles conference.

As a majority vote would require the adoption of the proposed Shields motion, Democratic senators conceded that it would probably be "lost" but they declared that they would be satisfied if they succeeded in placing their Republican opponents on record as voting down efforts to secure "pitiless publicity" for the secrecy which they charged enveloped the four power pact.

Senator Borah of Idaho, Republican "irreconcilable," was also prepared to challenge a denial by Cravath that Borah had quoted him correctly as stating that there was a secret understanding between the United States and Great Britain to hold Japan in check with Anglo-American fleets in the Pacific.

Cravath's statement that Borah's charge was "pure romance" was understood to have aroused the ire of the Idaho senator to such an extent that he was prepared to quote further from the address he accused Cravath of delivering before a gathering last month at the hotel Astor, New York City, in an effort to show that the New Yorker, reflecting the views of Elihu Root, had revealed that an Anglo-American entente was the real substitute for the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

Washington, March 21.—Secretary of State Hughes was today preparing to meet Senate opposition to the naval treaty with the same weapons he used to aid the fight for the four-power Pacific pact it was learned on high authority today.

UNITED STATES TO PARTICIPATE IN OIL FIELDS

Gigantic Mesopotamian Section To Be Developed By U. S. Capital.

London, March 21.—Great Britain is expected to give assurances of her willingness for the United States to participate in the exploitation of the gigantic Mesopotamian oil fields, it was learned in authoritative circles today.

It is likely that, if Britain gives America an opportunity to share in the rich undeveloped petroleum fields of Mesopotamia the Standard Oil company will secure the coveted concessions.

A. C. Bedford, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey is in London at the present time conferring with British officials and officers of the Anglo-Persian oil company, the British concern which controls the Turkish and Persian oil fields.

Mr. Bedford was scheduled to make an important address before the British petroleum institute tonight, but suddenly cancelled the engagement. He explained that no significance was to be attached to his refusal and that the only reason for it was that he had not been given enough time.

Washington, March 21.—Great Britain's recognition of American rights in the Mesopotamian oil fields represents a considerable diplomatic victory for the United States, officials said today in commenting on the dispatches from London.

There has been a long series of notes in this controversy the latest of which was dispatched only last week by Secretary Hughes.

The British claimed monopolistic rights in the rich oil fields of Mesopotamia under the mandate awarded by the league of nations. In his memorable notes on this subject, Secretary Hughes established the principle of equal rights for all in mandated territories.

Then the British claimed monopolistic rights under an alleged agreement entered into between the Turkish petroleum company, a British corporation and the old Turkish government before the war.

The American correspondence established this "agreement" as being merely an exchange of letters between the company and the Turkish government, in which no commitments had been made on either side.

TELL SENSATIONAL STORY OF LIQUOR TRAFFIC IN SOUTH

Miami, Fla., March 21.—Startling revelations of the organized liquor traffic in Florida were contained in a report forwarded to Washington Monday by Colonel Nutt, chief enforcement officer in charge of a squad campaign here against violators of the Volstead law.

Nutt declared that liquor operators discussed their transactions "like bankers" and he charged that in two instances bankers acted as agent for purchasers of liquor by holding money in trust until the goods were delivered.

ANOTHER WAVE OF DISORDERS SWEEPS ULSTER

Orangemen and Sinn Feiners Clash Along the Frontier.

BELFAST AFFECTED

Incendiaryism Breaks Out In City—British Start to Interfere.

London, March 21.—The British government today intervened to prevent war between the Irish free state and Ulster province.

Sir Laming Worthing-Evans, secretary of state for war in the British cabinet announced in commons that the military garrisons in the north of Ireland were being strengthened and that efforts were being made to restore order in Ulster. The seat of disturbance is the southern frontier of Ulster where two armies of orangemen and republicans face each other.

Belfast, March 21.—Another wave of violence raged along the Ulster frontier today. Arma Orangemen and Sinn Feiners clashed at numerous points.

Raiders attacked Glengren Lodge, in county Donegal, but the owner, John A. McGinnis, a unionist leader and his tenants stood off the attackers. A special constable was killed in a clash with Republicans.

A wave of incendiaryism has swept Belfast.

The British government may carry out military intervention to prevent war between Ulster and the Irish free state, but this will be done only as a last resort.

Following the outbreak of guerrilla fighting along the Ulster boundary over the week end a state of trench warfare was threatened today. Both the orangemen and Sinn Feiners have been digging in all along the line. Each side is heavily armed.

Although war is threatened between the Irish free state and Ulster the British government will not intervene except as a last resort.

The British government is apprehensive over the outlook and is urging the most careful measures on the part of Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, and field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, commander in chief of the Ulster volunteers.

While the government is loath to interfere, it is hinted that British troops will take over the disputed territory unless there is a peaceful settlement.

The Belfast Carters have gone on strike declaring that they are risking their lives daily by working in bullet swept streets.

A detachment of special constables was rushed to county Tyrone upon receiving word that the whole countryside "was ablaze."

Raiders have extended their activities. Many houses have been burned in various localities.

Several loyalists were wounded while defending their homes against attack.

CHARGE OF MURDER TO BE PLACED AGAINST MAN

Harry Jackson Held Following Death of Former Wife, Who Succumbs Late Monday to Injuries Alleged Inflicted By Prisoner

With the death Monday night of Mrs. Ruth Jackson, 26, colored, from injuries said to have been inflicted by her former husband, Harry Jackson, a charge of murder will be placed against Jackson, who is held in the county jail now, local authorities said, Tuesday.

Authorities said Tuesday morning that a post mortem examination to determine the exact causes of the death of the young woman, would be made Tuesday, and that no specific charge would be placed against Jackson, who is being held on a charge of assault with intent to kill, until after the examination.

Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, who had to leave for Wilmington early Tuesday morning, said before he left that the exact charge to be placed against Jackson had not been determined upon. Of the three specific murder charges, it is thought, however, that he will either be charged with second degree murder or manslaughter.

The assault is said to have taken place February 19, at the home of Mrs. Jackson, 173 Columbus avenue, where she has been making her home with her aunt, Mrs. Lucrotia Jones, Jackson, who was divorced from his wife two years ago, is said to have been insanely jealous of her, ever since the separation, and was angered when he saw her walking to her home with another man February 19.

Police say he dragged his former wife into her home and attacked her with his fists, knocking her down and kicking her. Fearful of her former husband's wrath, the woman did not tell relatives or the attending physician the cause of her injuries. She attempted to continue her work as domestic at the O. S. & S. O. Home the next day but collapsed and had since been under the care of a physician. When told that she would probably die, after a consultation of physicians last week, she confessed that her former husband attacked her, causing her injuries. A subsequent examination disclosed two broken ribs, one puncturing a lung which caused hemorrhages and loss of blood, which finally brought on her death.

Jackson did not attempt to flee after the attack, but remained in Xenia until several days ago, when he went to Dayton, in search of employment. He returned Saturday evening and on hearing that he was wanted, gave himself up at police headquarters. He was locked up by Assistant Chief Mangan and shortly afterward transferred to the county jail by the sheriff. The charge of assault with intent to kill was placed against him pending the outcome of the injuries sustained by his wife.

Mrs. Jackson was born and had always lived in this city. She is the daughter of C. L. Edwards, Jasper avenue, and besides her father, leaves three small children, Paul Maurice, Thearl Barnett and Florence Amelia. She also leaves three half sisters, Mabel Edwards of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. William Stokes of Dayton and Mrs. Mattie Wike of Columbus, and a brother, Harry Edwards, of New York City. She made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Lucrotia Jones, 173 Columbus avenue. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Washington, March 21.—The anti profiteering and housing laws of New York state were upheld and declared valid yesterday by supreme court of the United States. The decision was handed down in the case of Edgar A. Levy leasing company against Jerome Siegel, New York City. The court held an emergency existed and the New York legislature was within its powers in enacting the laws.

MEASURE WILL PASS SENATE FORDNEY SAYS

Supporters Confident Bill Will Receive Approval of President.

ISSUE NOW FORCED

Lash of Political Necessity Will Hustle Measure Along.

Washington, March 21.—The soldier's bonus bill will be put through the house before the close of the present week under the lash of political necessity. The congressional primary nominations for house members will be held in many states during April and May. The bonus bill must be well on its way to final passage before these primaries, if the Republican party candidates are to benefit from it.

Speaker Gillett today agreed to the proposal of Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee to bring the bill up on Thursday. Chairman Campbell of the rules committee will bring in a special rule making Thursday "suspension day" when this rule is accepted, the bill will be laid before the house by Fordney and debated for four hours. It will then be placed upon its passage with no opportunity being offered for amendment.

Plans for bringing the bill before the house were perfected today by Republican leader Mondell and Chairman Campbell of the house rules committee. The bill is to be taken up Thursday. Special order of business is necessary to prevent opponents and tax advocates from uniting to force acceptance of an excess profits (tax or increased surtaxes on large incomes. The Democrats are prepared to urge a ten per cent excess profits tax.

It is proposed to meet this emergency by forcing consideration of the bill under suspension of rules which would prevent the offering of any amendments but would require a two thirds vote to insure passage of the bill. There is no doubt in the minds of house Republican leaders that the vote necessary can be had for the bill. Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee said he was satisfied with the situation.

Fordney is convinced that not only will the present bill pass the house but that in substantially its present form it will pass the senate and receive the approval of President Harding. House members who talked with the president insisted that while he did not approve the bill neither did he condemn it or threaten to veto it. He insisted the responsibility rested with congress.

Speaker Gillett is suffering most from the latest tangle over the bonus legislation. His refusal to permit the bill to be brought up yesterday after the president had withdrawn active opposition to the bill has aroused bitterness, much of which is directed against the speaker for arbitrary exercise of power. This feeling is likely to lead to a split in the house Republican organization and render more difficult house control by the Republican leaders.

SMITH WILL REST CASE WITH VOTERS

Columbus, March 21.—"I am not afraid to rest my case with the voters of Ohio and will cheerfully abide by their decision," declared Secretary of State Smith, a prospective candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

"The people of Ohio, under their constitution, provided the methods for the selection of candidates for public office," said Secretary Smith, commenting upon the proposal that a pre-primary conference be held in Ohio.

"So long as that constitution is in effect it is the law of this state, and as I am a firm believer in a strict adherence to the law and the constitution when I announce my candidacy for governor it will be with a full understanding of the provisions made for the nomination for candidate of governor."

PROHIBITION AGENTS PLAN NEW DRIVES TO DRY UP WET STATES

Silent Invasions by Regiments of Enforcement Officials Will Be Carried Out—Rural Sections Are Aim of Campaign It Is Said.

Washington, March 21.—New drives to dry up states that are still listed by prohibition officials as very "wet" will take the form of silent invasions by regiments of enforcement agents, moving about incognito from locality to locality and all acting under orders for simultaneous raids.

The Florida plan of campaign against bootleggers will be followed soon in a number of states, it was learned today. Special agents, grouped together in these maneuvers will be drawn out of Florida within a short period. Officials here believed today that the clean up of violators would be complete in a few days.

Some of the chief attacks of the raiders in their coming campaigns will be in the rural sections of states from which the country's principal supplies of moonshine have been obtained. Prohibition officials here said today that the moonshine liquor problem is second only to that of smuggling and is gaining importance as an element of danger to enforcement.

After the Florida clean up of rum runners, a number of other southern states will be singled out for attack by the raiders. Georgia, the Carolinas, Virginia and Tennessee probably will be the centers of spectacular raids.

Reports to officials today disclosed a very alarming increase in the output of "white mule." Millions of gallons of this dynamic brand of liquor are pouring forth in to the larger cities to appease eager demands of bootleggers, now unable to obtain whiskey of the bonded variety, according to reports of prohibition inspectors sent into the field.

Many of the prohibition directors have asked for the aid of extra forces of general prohibition agents. Their forces are too limited to attempt a general and wholesale round up of alleged violators on a scale similar to that now under way in Florida, officials declared today.

TELL MERITS OF NEW STYLE PEN BY ADVERTISING

Shortly we are to have a new kind of fountain pen—in a sense a pen that is analogous to a safety razor owing to the pen being filled by placing in it a glass tube containing ink. When the ink has been used a new tube is inserted.

Under the name of John Hancock this pen will be brought to the attention of the public with a newspaper campaign.

And that's the significant point, in a way, that it furnishes another example of the recognized effectiveness—the actual necessity of the use of newspaper advertising to quickly introduce even new devices.

freedom of bloom the Rosy Morn type.

A large-flowered strain especially valuable for window boxes is the "Balcony" type, Balcony White, Balcony Blue, Balcony Rose and Balcony Queen being fine varieties. These from their long stems which droop gracefully over the edges of window and porch boxes, furnish a charming effect.

Petunias should be started now for the summer beds, the small-flowering kinds being especially valuable to tuck in among the tulips and early flowering bulbs so that they will be ready to cover the bed and furnish a fresh sheet of dazzling bloom when the tulips have gone.

The bedding petunias may be started in a cold frame to good advantage as they will stand considerable frost but not a freeze. The seeds are so fine that care must be used in watering them so that they will not be washed out of the soil. Petunias thrive almost anywhere.

The fancy large-flowered strains need more careful culture and richer soil and more water to do their best than the small-flowered kinds.

TIPS ON GARDEN MAKING

Single Fringed. Small Flowering. Ruffled.

The revival of the popularity of the petunia, for years one of the garden standbys, has been a feature of gardening for the last two years. The introduction of the Rosy Morn bedding petunia with its wonderful wealth of bloom and its certainty to flower in almost any situation has done much to revive interest in this popular old fashioned flower.

The giant, frilled single types have shown remarkable development and are especially esteemed for pot plants and for window boxes as well as for bedding. The large flowered types are not as free bloomers as the bedding type of which Rosy Morn, Carmen Sylva, Howard's Star and others are familiar examples.

A strain of small, tree-flowering double petunias seems destined to become great favorites, rivaling in

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat, which forms uric acid.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

ANTIOCH WILL FILL NEED OF STUDENTS SAYS A. E. MORGAN

"No machinery can be developed that will develop the student. The student will develop only as his attitude is for development. The universities with their highly developed machinery will continue to serve the student who must be educated by a pouring in process. Antioch will fill the need for students with the right attitude."

This was the gist of the message brought to Antioch College students in an address Monday by President Arthur Morgan, who has just returned after an extensive survey of the college systems in the eastern universities. President Morgan announced during his talk that he had obtained the services of two new faculty members who will come to Antioch next fall.

President Morgan stressed the fact that his own problems with the new Antioch were comparatively simple to those of the universities, where he claimed, there exists an atmosphere of unrest. "There is a strong feeling among college men that we must still strive to discover a process of education," said Mr. Morgan. "When I go away to visit these large institutions with their smooth working machinery and hear of their many problems, I feel greatly encouraged when I get back to our Antioch with its many possibilities.

"It is possible to get a good running machine, many fine buildings and proceed to try to put education into the minds of students, but it is a little harder to develop the attitude of students and provide them with an environment and opportunities for their own search after an education."

President Morgan told of examining the Yale catalogue, running down the faculty list for possible Antioch additions and upon searching for five of the most promising on the faculty discovered that "one was in Hawaii another in Europe, another in San Francisco, and the two others were also miles away. I found out that there is many a slip between the catalogue and the class," he said.

POSTOFFICE MEASURE PASSED BY SENATE

Washington, March 21.—The post office appropriations bill, carrying $623,773,000, was passed late yesterday by the senate, after a heated fight. The measure carries $63,309,000 more than as passed by the house, $50,000,000 of the increase going for federal highway aid.

The bill also carries provisions for restoring to service the New York pneumatic mail tubes and for continuing the New York to San Francisco air mail service. The vote on the tube amendment, was 35 to 19 and came after a bitter attack had been made on the proposition by several Democrats. The $50,000,000 was accepted by the senate without debate and without a roll call.

A fight centering around postoffice appointments originating early in discussion of the bill resulted just before adjournment of the senate in the introduction by Senator Harrison of a resolution calling on the president to supply the senate with the number of executive orders he has issued removing post-offices from civil service classification. The resolution went over under the rules.

George Geyer, of N. Galloway St., underwent an operation for appendicitis at the McClellan Hospital, Tuesday morning. He is resting comfortably.

Mrs. Lewis C. Tingley, left Dayton Sunday for Richmond, Ind., where she joined Mr. Tingley, who has been appointed manager of the chamber of commerce, at Richmond.

U. S. TO DEVELOP OWN DIRIGIBLES IT IS ANNOUNCED

Abandon Further Efforts To Experiment With Foreign Craft.

Akron, March 21.—The United States aero department has apparently abandoned further attempts to experiment with foreign built aircraft, according to announcement received at Winfong hanger today.

The statement declares that the new dirigible recently tested at the Goodyear plant will be given the birth of the Roma destroyed in an accident near Langley field several weeks ago. The announcement also is made that officers of the aero department are convinced that recent disasters prove that America must enter an era of construction of air machines. It is intimated the work will be started at once to develop dirigibles of a large type that are safe enough to carry passenger lists.

According to the announcement today, the dirigible built here will leave for McCook field at Dayton within two weeks and from there will be taken to the hanger at Langley field. The new ship is non-rigid and 170 feet in length instead of 410 feet as was the Roma.

Washington, March 21.—Rep. Chas. L. Knight, of Akron, O., today issued a formal statement declaring that he thought he would be a candidate for governor of his state in the next election, but explaining that he had not definitely decided to make the race.

"If I enter the race," Knight said "I shall do so upon a very simple platform that everybody can understand. I want them to understand and to defeat me if they do not approve, or otherwise I might be a serious disappointment later on."

WINTRY BLAST'S USHER IN FIRST DAY OF SPRING ALTHOUGH EVIDENCES OF SEASON ARE DISCOVERED

Speaking of tough assignments, the demand of the city ed for a spring story on a day like Tuesday, draws down the prize.

Blustery March winds carrying wintry snows are not conducive to prove inspiring to spring poets, or even to a reporter who is expected to say something nice about the flowers, the birds and the budding greenness.

It is consoling however, that nature gives but little heed to the bluff and bluster of March. Witness the fact that Ondess L. Inman, professor of biology at Antioch College has already discovered many wild forms of plant life coming to life, that are sure indicators of the approaching spring.

Some of the more domesticated varieties of plants and flowers, have already awakened and are feebly attempting to force the season against the wishes of the weatherman, but the discoveries of Professor Inman give positive proof of the inevitable change of the seasons. His exploring party around the college campus and in the glades and glens near Yellow Springs has been fraught with success, and the professor returned with many examples of early

TELEPHONE COMPANY WANTS REHEARING OF ITS XENIA CASE

Columbus, March 21.—The Ohio Bell Telephone Company today petitioned the state utilities commission for a rehearing relative to the action taken by the commission early this month in connection with the company's properties at Xenia.

The company claimed that the commission's estimate of operating expenses for Xenia, $43,046.52, is unlawfully unjust and unreasonably low. It claimed, also, that the commission did not allow for property acquired by the company during the year beginning Sept. 30, 1920.

Attorney C. L. Darlington, who represented the Chamber of Commerce in the protest of the rate increase, and won a decision from the commission reducing the rates and demanding a refund to patrons, had not received official word of the petition for a rehearing Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Darlington said that he is going to Columbus Wednesday any way, and at that time will call on members of the utilities commission and investigate the petition for rehearing. If the commission allows the rehearing, it will mean that the telephone company and the Chamber of Commerce or some other representative organization will have another rate fight, in the attempt to insure patrons of the Xenia exchange more reasonable service, it is claimed.

DAY CAMPAIGNING

Cleveland, Mar. 21.—Senator Arthur H. Day only avowed candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, has a busy schedule for the remainder of the week. His hosts there being a group of ex-service men, while the remainder of the week will be spent getting acquainted in Dayton and Cincinnati and surrounding territory.

DANGER OF OUTLAW STRIKES OVER U. S. IS NOW FEARED

Washington, March 21.—The danger of sporadic "outlaw" strikes in varied industries principally on the railroad as an accompaniment to the nation-wide coal strike due April 1 was held out by labor leaders here today.

Already some employees of the Erie railroad at Scranton and Dunmore, Pa., and at Harnett, N. Y., have laid down their tools. It was pointed out, in protest against the road's policy of letting out shop work to private contractors.

The shop crafts are restless, labor leaders said, because of the delays experienced in getting cases through the railroad labor board, and this restlessness has been increased by some roads openly flouting the authority of the board.

An epidemic of "outlaw" strikes on the roads, particularly on those which like the Erie run through coal country, would add greatly to the seriousness of the coal tie up.

CO-ED CHARACTERIZES FUSS CAUSED BY HER DISAPPEARANCE FROM COLLEGE AS "SILLY"

Chicago, March 21.—All this fuss about the fact that she chose to go away for a few days is "silly," according to Miss Edna Emma Taylor, 21, university of Chicago co-ed. Miss Taylor was found last night as she was entering a south side rooming house after being missing since last Thursday. She "had reasons" for disappearing, Miss Taylor declared, but

AMERICA ACCEPTS APPOINTMENT OF HERR WIEDFELDT

Selection of German Ambassador to U. S. Is Favorable.

Berlin, March 21.—The American government has notified Germany that Herr Wiedfeldt is acceptable as German ambassador to the United States, it was learned from official sources this afternoon.

It is now certain that Herr Wiedfeldt will be the first German ambassador in Washington since the war. He was formally offered the post last Saturday and gave assurance that he would accept if Washington approved of him. Wiedfeldt has been manager of the Krupp works at Essen. He resigned, however, when the government asked him to accept the diplomatic post at Washington. It was chiefly through his genius that the Krupp works were transformed so quickly from an armament plant to a producer of peace time products after the war. Formerly Krupps produced only cannons, rifles and armor plate. Now their chief products are locomotives, rails and agricultural implements. Herr Wiedfeldt is a millionaire.

DUCKS AND GEESSE ON WAY NORTH AT PRESENT

Washington C. Large numbers of these fowls have come to rest momentarily on Fayette streams and pools during the past few days while enroute northward.

PUT THE BLAME WHERE IT BELONGS.

A scientific economist speaking before a Rotary Club, addressing business men and farmers, gave a very exhaustive and statistical explanation of the present condition in the business and agricultural world. He gave large numbers of figures to show why prices had dropped in certain commodities, went scientifically into the intricate matter of currency, and gave very plausible reasons for business depression and abnormal prices. But when he was through and invited questions on any of the points he had made, one shrewd old farmer who had listened attentively said: "Can you give us now, the real Cause for the causes you say have brought about all the trouble in the industrial, agricultural and business world?"

The lecturer was an unusually intelligent man, and he was keen enough to know what the farmer's question meant. He replied at once: "The real underlying Cause of all the world's financial troubles of every sort is, of course, the selfishness of mankind."

And his answer, which was applauded again and again by that Rotary Club, was absolutely true.

For it is the selfishness of mankind that made war and created a disaster so great in every department of human energy that all forms of it were thrown out of balance.

It is the selfishness of mankind that destroys food and money value, and wage earning value, and property and human life.

It is the selfishness of humanity that puts fictitious values on men and materials, counting the materials as of more worth than souls. And that one thing in itself creates panic and money losses and business depression.

It takes the civilized world a long time to learn the lesson that all its troubles in the business world spring directly from mankind's own selfish acts.—Christian Herald.

LORDS AND LADIES.

The British House of Lords, the most famous legislative body in the world, will be hereafter the House of Lords and Ladies, in fact if not in title. Perhaps speakers will get into the habit of addressing their fellow peers as "my ladies and my lords," though it is rather un-English to put the ladies first in that fashion. Perhaps too, the lords will eventually stop wearing their hats in the house while transacting business.

These however, are trivial matters. The important thing is that Lady Rhonda, insisting on her right under the feminine enfranchisement law to sit in the House of Lords as heir to her father, has been upheld by the membership committee of that exclusive body, and that she will soon take her seat, followed by several other women with similar rights.

Lady Rhonda will add some strength to the British upper chamber, which has languished in recent years, since it was deprived of the right of veto over acts passed by the Commons. She is a capable woman with vast interests, director in 27 companies and manager of some of them.

SCHOOL COSTS.

Cleveland has one of the most progressive and wide-awake public school systems in the United States. In the last issue of School Topics, a fortnightly publication edited jointly by the management and teachers of the schools, some interesting data are supplied about school-operating costs in that and other cities. It is shown, for example, that Philadelphia spends less per pupil than any other large city, the cost being $75.43, as compared with Cleveland's $108.30 Detroit's $101.04, Boston's $101.57, Indianapolis $103.45 and Buffalo's $134.36 per pupil. In addition, it is pointed out that the cost in New York, Pittsburgh, Seattle and Chicago is in each case greater than that in Cleveland. In justice to Philadelphia, however, it is stated that the increased salary schedule will make the cost figures higher hereafter.

Other elements enter into such a computation which make any exact comparison of operating costs incomplete or misleading. For example, some cities pay for medical inspection and others do not; some set aside large sums for pensions and others have no pension funds, and some again provide free textbooks and others do not. With these limitations, however, the Cleveland comparisons are interesting and instructive and should serve to silence the croakers who grudge large outlays for public education.

BE LIBERAL WITH PRAISE.

Don't be afraid to praise people. It is very well to say that it hurts a boy or man or a woman to praise; there may be those who do their best work without encouragement, but let us remember that nearly all of us who live on this earth are human beings and work best when encouraged.

It is a great mistake not to tell people when you are satisfied with them. If the cook sets before you a dinner fit for a king, tell her so.

Don't be too lofty to praise the office boy if his work is commendable. Tell him so.

Do you like to be praised yourself? Then depend upon it the other fellow will like it.

Pour the oil of encouragement on the wheels of progress and watch 'em whirl.

I'm not advocating soft soap or flattery or gush. No one likes to be gushed at, and any fool can tell flattery from the real thing.

But when a man has made a hit with you, tell him so. He may be dead before you can get another chance, or you may die yourself.

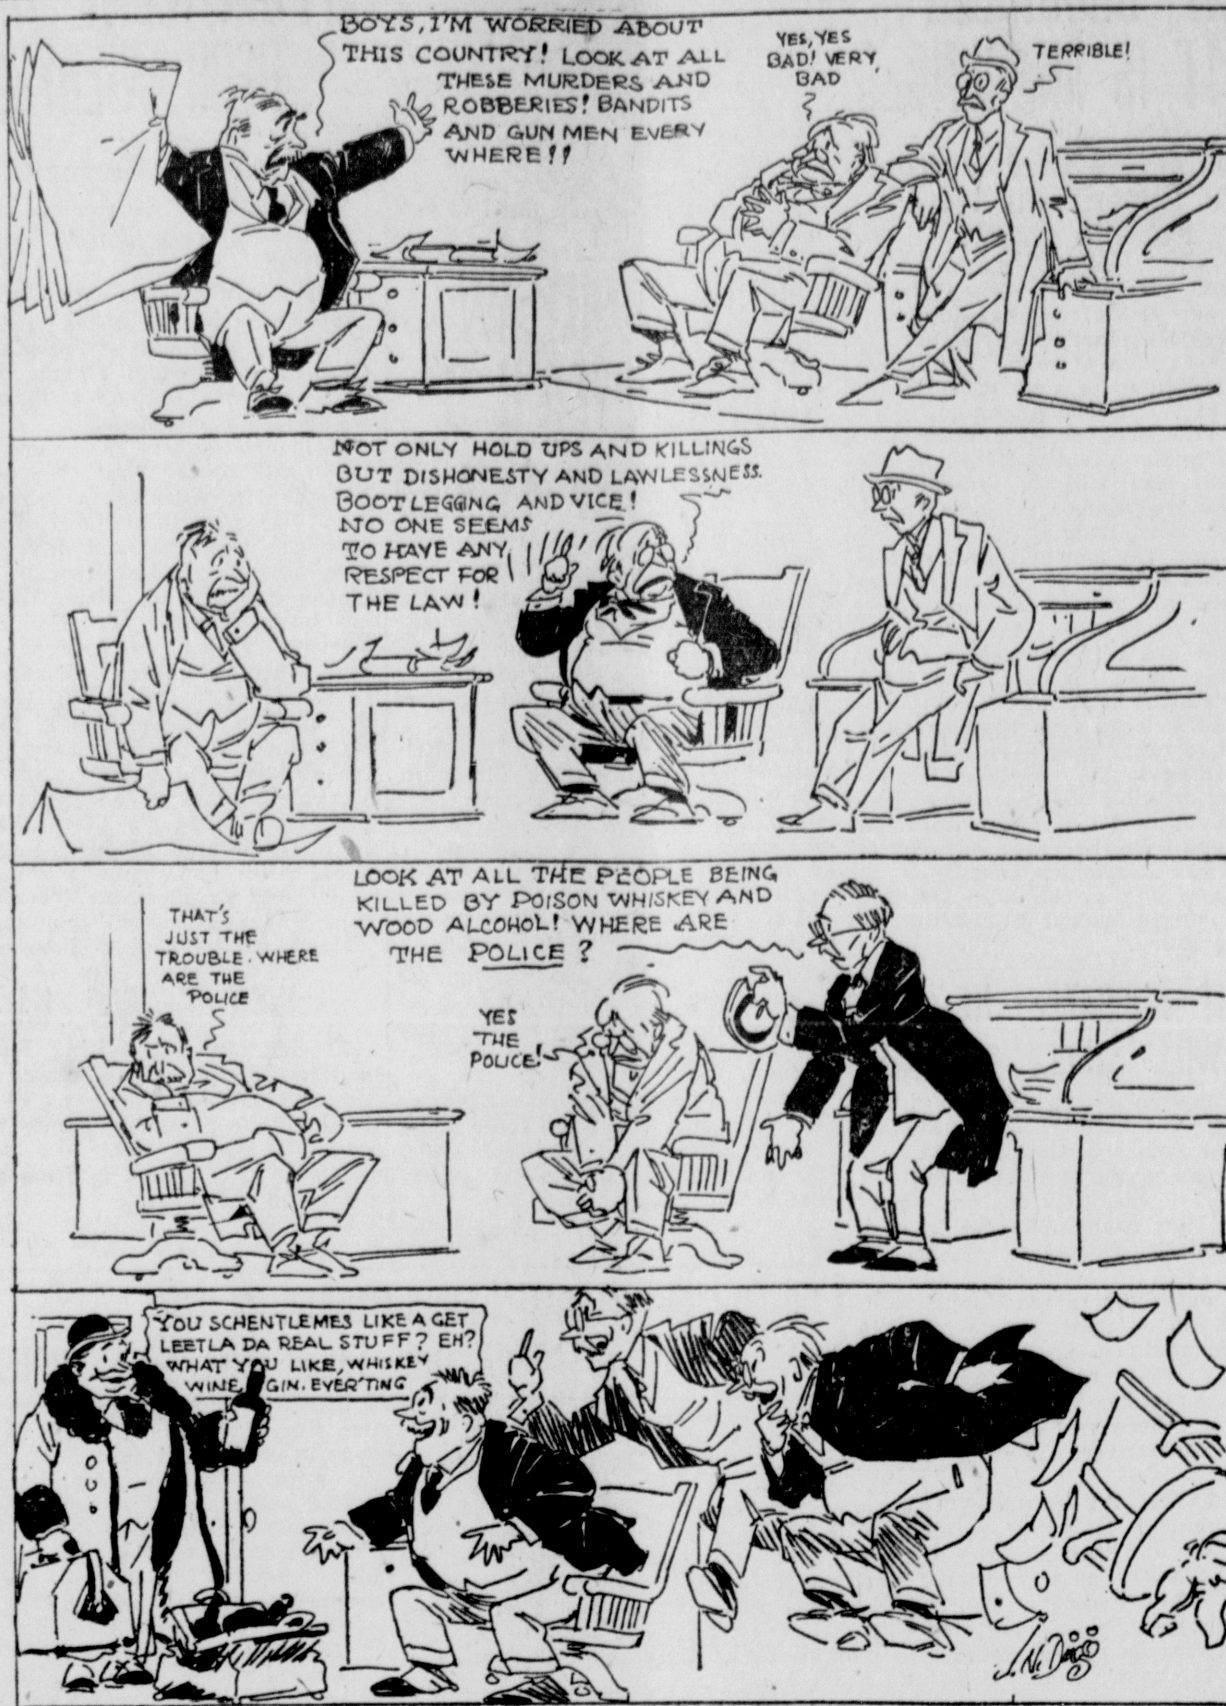

It takes quality to appreciate quality, so when you praise a thing you are really offering a compliment to yourself. Doesn't that appeal to you? Will you let all the good things in life pass you by and you as mum as a dead owl?

Wake up, man! watch out for a chance to praise someone; admit to yourself that you like what he has done, and then—tell him so!—Smith's Magazine.

It is estimated that the amount of capital required to put the railroads of this country in first-class condition would amount to from $4,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000. Approximately one-half of this amount is needed for additional tracks and equipment to accommodate increased traffic.

Ways To Keep Friends

I have been asked by one of the readers of these Talks to tell how friends may be kept. I give as the best rule for keeping a friend, the advice of another—a friend yourself!

We attract to ourselves in a large measure those qualities and characteristics in others which predominate in us, or which we desire should rule in us.

A friend is the most precious possession in this world. Therefore we should not regret the time and patience and control necessary to become one, so that we may hold not one—but many.

One of the most important ways to keep a friend after you have one, is to see his good points and play up to them.

The reason why it is so easy and natural to pick the flaws in our friends is that we have so many ourselves—and that makes them quickly recognizable in others.

But I know of no better way to lose a friend than to start finding fault with him.

Learn to overlook, and then you will be surprised at the many wonderful qualities your friend possesses which you had no idea he did.

Thoughtfulness toward those you love and want as your friends will bring you rich rewards of happiness. Try to think of the little things which might bring sunshine and cheer to your friend.

Be tolerant—and be just. How inclined we all are to see the unjust acts of our friend without weighing our own sense of justice!

We all crave friends deeply. Nevertheless it is well that we do not see too much of those who are dearest to us. The freshness of friendship is one of the most precious gifts that can come to us.

To give something new and attractive to those we so much love, every time we come in contact with them, is a great preservative of the relationship of friendship.

And—be kind! It's an overworked word. I know. But it has never lived its life out.

Unkind words can never be recalled. And sometimes, as the years thicken, these words sink deeper into the heart—and every once in a while, they hurt in their hidden nest.

A sincere friend can afford to smile many things away!

Letters To The Editor

Editor of Gazette and Republican:
When is one dollar worth ten dollars? When is it added in the shape of income to the bare living expenses of a business or institution. Now this is just the case with the money the County Library will receive from the plays to be given soon. Most of the cost of the Library upkeep is for salaries, heat, light, etc. It's the margin of income over and above these items that puts the Library "over the top" in its service to the community, for then new books can be bought. Therefore a dollar spent to see the plays will double the usefulness of ten dollars already spent by the county. And incidentally the playgoer will get full value in amusement of a kind that should grow in popularity in Xenia.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

THE STREET.

My room is near the village street, too close to traffic madding, and all night long I hear the feet of foolish people gadding. Hour after hour I hear their tread, their midnight vigils keeping; how people have to go to bed and do some useful sleeping! I hear the tin cars climb the hill, a-honking and a-horning, and flappers' voices rising shrill, at 3:10 in the morning. We used to have our fun by day, by day we did our choring; when evening came we hit the hay and did some fancy snoring. If any man sent up a yawp that sleepers found disturbing, he'd run against the village cop, who'd slam him through the curbing. But weary people have no rights in this gray world of sorrow; they lie in bed awake o' nights, and long to greet the morrow. The young folks whoop beneath the stars, and yell and sing and clamor, and poisoned pups and henry cars all help to swell the clamor. The midnight hour no comfort has, there's little chance for dreaming, for all the night is full of jazz and yips and flappers' screaming. And so the old folks yearn and weep for saintly nights departed, when they could lay them down and sleep, and get up cheery hearted.

ALLEGED FORGER RELEASED ON BOND ON GOOD BEHAVIOR

Orlie Woods, 40, of near Cedarville, bound over to the grand jury last week on a forgery charge, has been released by authorities, after relatives had provided the $500 bond fixed as bail.

If Woods lives up to promises made Monday, the charge of forgery against him will not be prosecuted, according to Prosecuting Attorney J. K. Williamson, and he will be permitted to continue to support his wife and four children that are dependent upon him.

W. O. Maddux, on whose farm Woods has been employed, vouched for the good conduct of the man in the near future, and offered him continued employment in order that he can support his family.

Friends attribute his weakness to the results of an explosion at the powder mills at Goes Station several years ago, when he was injured. Brothers-in-law of Woods made up the necessary bond and Woods agreed to repay H. E. Schmidt & Co., $75-65, the amount he is alleged to have defrauded that firm out of, through a worthless check to which he forged the name of S. S. Dean, prominent farmer. He has been released from custody.

GIRL TELLS WHY SHE LEAPED FROM AUTO

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 21.—Declaring that fright prompted her action, Emmeline Kwakernaak, 19-year-old Western State Normal School co-ed, who was injured a week ago when she jumped from an automobile driven by John Duval Dodge, youthful Detroit millionaire, yesterday told for the first time the circumstances surrounding her injury.

Miss Kwakernaak is still in a local hospital, where she was taken after the accident, which led to charges of driving while intoxicated, and illegally transporting liquor, being filed against Dodge.

Miss Kwakernaak said she had just left a dance in company with Miss Ethel Clemens, her room-mate, and Miss Sue Stegenga, when an automobile drove up, and the two young men in it, who later introduced themselves as Dodge and Rex Earl of Kalamazoo, invited them to ride.

"When they drove right by our boarding house and headed out into the country at a terrific speed, we all became frightened," she said. "We were all of us—we three girls—sitting in the back seat, and the men in front. Then a sudden impulse moved me to jump."

Dodge, who was released from the house of correction in Detroit this morning after serving five days for "speeding" is to appear in court here tomorrow. At a local hotel he has engaged eight rooms.

EX-SOLDIERS GET JOBS AT FORD FACTORIES

Detroit Mich., March 21.—Announcement was made yesterday by the Ford Motor Co., that an increase of 20 per cent in the number employed at the Ford plants was being put into effect and that preference would be given former service men. The efforts of the legion to replace untrained aliens with former service men has brought a rush of aliens to the federal and circuit courts in quest of citizenship papers. Hundreds of men were in line when federal court opened today and at least 200 were waiting at the county building, according to county officials.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

Earl Williams, Fairfield, who sustained a fractured skull when he fell from an interurban car six weeks ago, was taken to the Springfield city hospital Monday night suffering from an attack brought on by his injuries. Williams told police he had been subject to sinking spells at irregular intervals. He suffered an attack while walking along a Springfield street, Monday night, and attempted to telephone for an ambulance but fell before he reached a phone. His condition is not critical and he is expected to recover from the attack.

GOOD FOR THAT "FLU" COUGH

For quick relief from the wearing coughs that "hang on" after the grippe or influenza, take Foley's Honey and Tar. Mrs. K. D. It is also good for croup, whooping cough and colds. It puts a soothing, healing coating over the inflamed surfaces, cuts the phlegm, eases hoarseness, clears the air passages. Sayre & Hemphill.

MAN SAVES WIFE IN NICK OF TIME

On the recommendation of a friend I bought a bottle of Sayre's Wonderful Remedy and she is all right now and has gained forty pounds." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Styles BY LENORE

White is a favorite color in the new spring blouses, but is most frequently shown with touches of color, preferably in the brighter shades, such as emerald green, yellow or orange.

Bisque is another popular color. Overblouses are as frequently made with short sleeves as with long, the sleeve cut off at the elbow or above (as in the white crepe de chine model shown in the circle) still proving the most becoming finish for low necked effects.

Both these blouses are trimmed with French knots clustered to make a solid design, the model worn by the seated figure being made of citron yellow crepe de chine, trimmed with dark blue.

Efficient Housekeeping

MAKING EGGS "STRETCH"
"My children love eggs," says a letter from a Reader Friend, "but an egg supper is not the most economical kind I can serve—and, goodness knows! I should be as economical as possible, with two sons to educate. My family consists of four yet one egg apiece doesn't seem to satisfy."

I like to have my Column Readers bring me their problems. For it frequently happens that I know of some thing that will solve them. The reader whose letter is quoted above, for instance, will be helped by the Bread-crumbs Omelet introduced by the following supper menu:

Breadcrumb Omelet
Cornmeal Muffins
Cocoa
Apple Sauce
Breadcrumb Omelet: Break stale crusts of bread into small pieces until you have one-half cupful; then soak pieces in 1 cup of sweet milk for five minutes.

Separate the yolks from the whites of 4 eggs. Beat the whites stiff in a large bowl. Put the yolks into another bowl and add to them 4 table-spoons of lukewarm water, 1-2 teaspoon salt, and a dash of black pepper. Mix well.

Turn the soaked breadcrumbs (with the milk) into the stiff egg-whites and add the egg-yolks at once. Stir, or fold these ingredients into the egg-whites until all are mixed together. Then pour the mixture into a hot frying pan in which a little bacon fat or beef drippings are sizzling. Let cook, without stirring for

WOMAN IS NAMED ASSESSOR OF THIS COUNTY; FIRST ONE

Mrs. A. E. Faulkner, of West Sec. 1, is the first woman assessor appointed in Greene County. Mrs. Faulkner was appointed assessor in the Xenia City second ward Sunday by County Auditor R. O. Lead. She will succeed L. Steinfeld, who resigned to take the position as clerk of the board of county commissioners, and the vacancy was the only one existing.

Mrs. Faulkner was formerly a clerk in the County Auditor's office, when her husband, A. E. Faulkner, was auditor. Tax returns will be mailed out about April 8, according to Auditor Lead and tax listing day is April 9. As assessors have not personally called on all the tax payers for several years, they will check up on the returns that come in, and call personally only on those who did not send returns.

OSA SEPTEMBER GLASS

Osa Septemba Glass, daughter of Paschal and Sarah Ann Glass was born April 4, 1871, near Pleasantview, Ohio, and departed this life March 11, 1922. Age 50 years, 11 months, 7 days.

She was married to Mr. J. L. Bryn of Buckwalter, Ohio, August 1886. To this union was born one child, a son, Paschal Loren, who died at the early age of six years. It was in the early days of her young married life that she was to give up another, her husband, a young companion.

On October 28, 1897, she was married to Mr. Charles Spahr, of Jamestown, Ohio, with whom she lived a happy married life for the last twenty five years.

The deceased leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Mrs. Ennis Stephens, the husband's daughter, one brother, Herman, and a sister Mrs. Lettie Jones, and besides a host of relatives, friends and neighbors. Osa as she was favorably called by all who knew her was of a sunny disposition and made all that came to their home feel that they were welcome, and always shared with them in their joys and sorrows.

During her life she was a woman of only average health, but always cheerfully and gladly attending to the duties of the home, bearing her portion of sorrow and tears, of the past with the greatest of fortitude, knowing that some day all would be well. About a year ago her afflictions made serious inroads on her general health, and although she seemed to gain in health and strength, yet it was only for a short time when it became apparent that her health was so seriously broken that it would require the most persistent care and effort to assure recovery. And so quietly, bravely, she endured her afflictions for long weary days and months, until the final summons came on Saturday morning, March 11, and she was called to "take her station with the redeemed in the Household of God."

She united with the Church of Christ at Pleasant View, Ohio, in 1888 under the preaching of Brother N. T. Sims. In this faith she lived and at this time being a member of the Church of Christ at Bowersville, Ohio.

"Tis hard to break the tender cord, When love has bound the heart; 'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the words We must forever part."

"Dearest loved one we must lay thee In the peaceful grave's embrace, But the memory will be cherished, Till we see thy heavenly face."

Mr. Spahr wishes to express his sincere thanks to his neighbors and many friends for their kindly acts and words of comfort during the recent sickness, and death of Mrs. Spahr. He also expresses his further appreciation for the beautiful floral gifts.

Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys rid the system of acids and waste that cause lameness, backache, sore muscles, swollen joints and rheumatic pains. Tonic in effect, quick in action. STEEL MANUFACTURER WILL FIGHT SUIT

Sharon, Pa., March 21.—Characterizing the law suit instituted against him at Mercer, Pa., for $100,000 by Elizabeth Pfeleiger, of Bucyrus, O., former instructor in music at Oberlin college, as an attempt to get money, John Fahline, 62, widower and retired steel manufacturer of this city, has retained attorneys to fight the case. Miss Pfeleiger alleges that Fahline broke his promise to marry her even "after she had prepared her wedding garments."

Mr. Fahline said he met the woman about four years ago when he purchased books from her.

"My son, John, ordered her from the house, saying she was not wanted, I believe that caused her to get angry, Fahline said today.

Since she has announced her intention of entering the suit, she has made offers of compromise but I have turned them all down. She even added that she would give the case the greatest publicity."

On the other hand Miss Pfeleiger says she has many letters, sizzling with love from the wealthy steel man. These, she declares, will be read at the trial set down for the May term of the Mercer county court.

PRESENT WAGES WILL PREVAIL FOR YEAR

Cleveland, March 21.—Present wages, rules and working conditions governing engineers and firemen employed on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad will prevail for at least another year, according to an announcement by brotherhood officials here. W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, denied published reports that his organization would meet with the Lackawanna officials here today but announced a meeting with them and representatives of other roads would be held in Chicago Thursday.

STILL ON THE JOB
Columbus, March 21.—"Although we are sending out our warrants as speedily as possible, we are receiving letters from anxious ex-servicemen who feel that they have been forgotten," said Director Roberts, of the state bureau of adjusted compensation.

Director Roberts called attention to a letter from one ex-soldier, who asserting that Hamilton county is "still in Ohio," asked whether a pull was needed to secure a bonus. Each letter is answered in an effort to convince the writers that they will receive their bonus as soon as the bureau can mail the warrants out, Director Roberts said.

ANTIOCH ANNOUNCES COURT SCHEDULE

Although Antioch College is not a member of the Ohio Conference of Colleges, Earl Prugh, director of athletics at the Yellow Springs school, was able to arrange an attractive basketball schedule for his team next year at the meeting of the Ohio Conference coaches held in Columbus, Monday.

Antioch's schedule is as follows:
December 15—Ohio University at Yellow Springs.
December 20—Cincinnati at Yellow Springs.
January 4—Wooster at Wooster.
January 5—Mt. Union at Alliance.
January 6—Western Reserve at Cleveland.

January 10—Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware.
January 16—Kenyon at Yellow Springs.
January 24—Cincinnati at Cincinnati.
February 1—Capital at Yellow Springs.
February 9—Capital at Columbus.
February 10—Kenyon at Gambier.
February 15—University of Dayton at Yellow Springs.

February 22—Ohio Northern at Yellow Springs.

Denison will also probably be played at Granville on a date to be selected later, and Antioch will also play its annual home and abroad games with Cedarville and Wilmington Colleges.

The schedule is the most imposing ever arranged for an Antioch five, and will enable the Yellow Springs tossers to meet some of the best teams in the state during next season. The standing of Coach Prugh among conference officials and coaches, is no doubt the reason why he was so kindly taken care of although his team is not a member of the conference.

PERFORMANCE PLEASES AUDIENCE MONDAY

The songs and black face repartee of W. C. T. Ayres and Percy Jones, the singing and dancing of Albert Gardner, the singing of Andrew Bryant and Edward Noble, the playing of the "Whispering Orchestra of Gold" and the regular jubilee dancing wind-up, were high lights in the minstrel show presented at the Opera House Monday afternoon and night by Franklin Lodge of colored Elks, of Columbus.

Although the performance was staged by amateurs, with the exception of a few in the cast of professional experience, the minstrel was well staged and ably presented, and amused and delighted a fair-sized audience. W. Cassella T. Ayres former Xenian, was given a warm greeting especially in his song number, "Back Biting Blues," while his song, "You Had Your Day," was also good. Percy Jones had a good monologue and knew how to use it, while Albert Gardner's "Dapper Dan" was his big hit.

Andy Bryant, lyric tenor, was very pleasing with his "I Want You Mandy Song," and Edward Noble's "Asleep in the Deep" bass solo was good. The orchestra which has been widely advertised here, lived up to its advance : tices in its interpretation of jazz music. The real minstrel windup, with everybody dancing, was a knock-out, with a hint of professionalism.

YOUNGSTERS ARE HAPPY
Hoydenville, March 21.—The youngsters at the Tick Ridge school are rejoicing because their teachers Walter Griffith, will resign on April first. This will give the pupils three more weeks of vacation. Their teacher will go on his new farm. The school board did not think it worth while to engage another teacher for a few weeks' work.

ALLEY IS AGAIN BATTLE POINT

The question of the rights to an alley way has again bobbed up as the basis for a legal action, with the filing with Clerk of Courts Elam Monday of a petition for mandatory and permanent injunction in which Mary Lammie is the plaintiff and Rebecca Bowles Weber and George M. Weber, the defendants. The plaintiffs and defendants own adjoining property in Bellbrook and the plaintiff claims that for 50 years an alley 12 feet wide has separated the properties running north from Franklin Street. The plaintiff now declares the defendants erected a fence extending about 2 1/2 or 3 feet into the alley, obstructing the alley and depriving the plaintiff of proper egress or ingress. The plaintiff wants a mandatory injunction compelling the removal of the fence and a permanent injunction against future erection of an obstruction in the alley. Attorney Marcus Shoup represents the plaintiff.

BLOCKIE MATCHED WITH TOLEDO CONTENDER

Dayton, March 21.—After much dickering, the Miami Athletic Club has matched Blockie Richards, local feather-weight with Patsy Dugan, Toledo contender for a 12 round decision bout at Triangle Park Pavilion Monday night, March 27th.

Just two weeks ago these boys, fought twelve of the most sensational rounds ever seen in this city and the referee declared it a draw—Dugan was not satisfied with the decision and immediately challenged Richards for a return bout on a "winner take all" basis.

The question of the referee halted proceedings on the match, but late last night both fighters agreed to accept the club referee and the bout has been signed on a "winner take all" basis. It has been a long time since a bout was held under these conditions in this city and the fans are showing more interest over this announcement than they have shown for some time and judging by demand for seat reservations a capacity crowd will witness the fight.

HELEN HUNTER'S HUSBAND

BY JANE THELPS

Nell Layton Labels Jack Selfish CHAPTER 69

Jack kept his word as far as saying nothing against occasional card parties, even joining with apparent zest in the game. But he had grown careless of Helen's pleasure again. It is so easy to slip back into the old habit, especially when it is a selfishly enjoyed one.

Once again he forgot Helen's youth, her love of gaiety. He was perfectly happy, perfectly contented to sit quietly and read six nights out of the seven. The seventh he would play cards until midnight, either at home, or with the Laytons. Somehow Helen seemed to have dropped all the rest of her crowd. Jack had that idea; not that they had dropped Helen because she had so constantly refused their invitations, had not returned their courtesies, and without complaining, or even telling him.

It was Nell Layton who gave him rather a shock. She came in one evening alone, her husband at his club. Helen left her with Jack a moment, and she blurted out:

"What are you trying to do to Helen, Jack Hunter? Punish her still because of Barnes?"

"What do you mean, Nell?" Jack jerked to attention, "I don't understand."

"How often have you taken that poor child to a theater or a concert in the last six months, since she came back, or even to a movie? I was telling her about a play we saw the other night, and asked her what she had seen, and she said she hadn't been out at all."

And tears were in her eyes although she tried to hide them from me. I never was so sorry for anyone in my life. I told Mr. Layton to get three tickets for that new musical show, and we would take her."

Jack looked dazed. Had Helen complained to Nell Layton? He flushed with shame. Nell read his thoughts and said:

"Don't think Helen has complained. She hasn't! Just said, when I asked why you never went anywhere nowadays, that you preferred to stay at home and read. For hard-boiled selfishness give me a man every time. No woman could be as absolutely self-centered as you men are, no matter what she did."

"You're pretty hard on us, Nell. But I guess I deserve it. I wish you wouldn't tell Helen you talked to me. I guess I have been thoughtless and selfish."

"I don't guess you have, I know! Helen is such a dear, and since that affair of Barnes—she was as innocent of wrong as a baby and you know it—she has worked herself to death to please you and save money. Why the poor child doesn't even laugh any more like she used to. That laugh of hers that made everyone want to laugh with her has absolutely died because she hasn't anything in her life but a sameness that never provokes laughter."

"Thank you, Nell! You've talked pretty rough to me but I am grateful! I never realized"—Jack broke off as Helen appeared in the door with a steaming rabbit.

While they ate, and Nell chatted, Jack watched Helen. He noted the absence of that infectious laugh. He also saw the drooping mouth, the lack of sparkle in her eyes. He had not meant to be cruel but evidently he had been.

"What new shows have you seen lately, Nell?" he asked after a time, keenly watching Helen's face.

"Oh, several!" She named them. "The Music Box Revue," Helen? he asked, and was both shocked and surprised at the way she received his suggestion. It was as if she had only just met him, and his invitation was so unexpected it embarrassed her. Her face flushed crimson, her lips trembled. She dropped her eyes so he could not see the longing gleam in them.

"If it would please you," she replied, without animation.

No amount of talking by Nell could have brought to him such knowledge of his selfishness as had Helen's manner when he asked her how she would like to see the play. Six months before she would have danced around to him; thrown her arms around his neck, told him she must get new gloves to look nice and a dozen other little actions to show her delight. Now it was only:

"If it would please you."

"You'll love it, Helen!" Nell Layton broke in to Jack's relief, but she also cast a "I told you so" glance at him.

"I'll get tickets for tomorrow night," he answered her glance with an understanding look.

Tomorrow—Loneliness Changes Helen's Nature.
